

Defending the faith after the Synod

I'm on the road right now in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, preparing for the conference on Catholic identity. I was invited to speak on the connection of the Vatican II points to the Synod on Synodality and to the more than 700 people present. I am grateful for the opportunity to join such an important event, to promote LifeSiteNews and to stand hand in hand with others who speak publicly in defence of the Catholic faith.

In these chaotic times, when the world seems to abandon its Creator, it is more important than ever to stand firmly in the faith and support the people who defend it. As a pro-life Catholic news source, LifeSiteNews will always do what we can to share hope, defend the truth and protect the teachings of our faith.

Next month LifeSiteNews will host the Rome Life Forum, where faithful clergy and laity, including Catholic leaders dedicated to maintaining the sanctity of life and the teachings of our faith, will gather in the Eternal City. We will develop a strategy on how to defend the faith after the Synod, facing the evils of the deep Church and the deep State.

With your support, we can continue our bold commitment to truth with the upcoming coverage of the Synod and other important stories about:

Pope Francis and his repression of the Latin Mass,

Direct opposition to the sacraments of Christ with «the ordination of women»,

Rejection of God's plan with the blasphemous "blessings" of same-sex unions,

And the ANNULMENT hiding from Bishop Strickland.

In a world where the boundaries between fact and fiction are increasingly blurred, we must continue to tell the truth about all aspects of church, life and traditional family values.

When you support LifeSiteNews during our fall campaign, you are giving our advocates of faith, life, family and freedom a platform to speak and make their voices heard.

Let us work together to increase coverage and amplify Catholic voices. We must listen to those who are brave enough to speak: our clergy like Archbishop Viganò and Bishop Strickland and our nuns like Mother Miriam. We must support and pray for our faithful priests and bishops. These bishops, as Bishop Strickland said, will not voluntarily abandon their flocks. We must not abandon them either. Rather, we must become more and more faithful in preparation for the storm that will precede the Triumph of the Immaculate Heart.
