

Benedict XVI is the last Pope

Announced by Our Lady of Guadalupe, printed on the Tilma in 1531 (493 years ago). The last Pope is Benedict XVI.

1961 - Garabandal, the Blessed Virgin announces to Conchita, while Paul VI reigned in the Vatican, that there were 4 Popes: Paul VI, John Paul I, John Paul II, Benedict XVI. Then she says 3 popes, Jean-Paul I was pope only for a very short time. After that comes the Warning.

Gorge Bergoglio, who gave himself the name of Francis, without a number, is not pope.

On the day of his election, heading towards the Balcon place Saint-Pierre in Rome, he refused to wear the white cap and the red stola of circumstance, which the servant who followed him wanted to put on so that he could address the crowd, as it always has been.

Why? The Star has received a special blessing. To wear it, one must be worthy of it, free from sin.

The trapezoidal silver cross with the Good Shepherd and the Holy Spirit that looks like a wolf.

The Good Shepherd is the motto of the Rosicrucians. The Agent is dark, while the Gold is light.

The Virgin Mary is surrounded by the Sun, the Gold. She has the Moon for her step, that is to say, she has her feet on the darkness.

Bergoglio has bought black shoes, while the shoes of a pope are red, just like the cardinals have a red cap, the color of martyrdom.

Pray for our Church, that the next Pope may be a Pope according to the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

FLEE

Flee! In the Name of Jesus Christ, away from my sight, and go back to hell, only there is your place.

May the fire burn you forever, demons cast out of My Church.

Run! I command you. Amen!

--